

An Introduction to Masterplanning

Event Details

This workshop is aimed at planners and related professionals involved in delivering large sites, who want to understand the benefits of, and approaches to, masterplanning and how it can be utilised to secure quality outcomes.

The interactive workshop will explain the masterplanning process for large scale residential sites and how you can ensure the creation of effective, quality-led masterplans that will facilitate delivery. The key objectives of the workshop will be to:

- enable participants to develop a broader understanding and appreciation of the overall masterplanning process and the level of spatial and delivery detail needed at each stage of the planning process
- enable participants to understand the differences between masterplans, spatial frameworks and development briefs – and when to use them
- explore good examples of masterplans and define what quality places look like
- enable participants to share experiences and learning with other planning and design professionals and have a go at creating a spatial framework for a large site.

Techniques will include presentations, discussions and a wide variety of hands on exercises. The course is very practical, so the focus will be on good practice from around the country in the form of case examples, but will also examine techniques and approaches that practitioners can apply themselves.

There will be ample time for questions and discussion, to explore current issues faced by participants and to share experiences between attendees.

 9.15am - 4.15pm

 05 March 2020

 Venue

The Wesley, London

The Wesley is conveniently located very close to a range of underground stations and within easy reach of Euston and King's Cross mainline stations.

 Presenter

Stephen Hill

Stephen Hill is a Chartered Town Planner and a founding Director of Hyas Associates. He has over 25 years' experience, having worked in local planning authorities within development management, planning policy and regeneration, including senior management roles, and more recently at ATLAS. Steve has particular skills in managing large scale development projects through the planning process; advising on policy approaches to strategic sites; masterplanning; building capacity to deal with large projects; and the deliverability of quality places.

 Price

£ 300 + VAT

Prices include tuition, course documentation, teas/coffees and lunch.

Bookings

Early booking is advised as numbers are limited. Provisional bookings can be made either by telephone on 01204 385678 or online at www.tra-ltd.co.uk. Provisional bookings will be held for 14 days without written confirmation.

Block booking scheme

A discount of between 10 and 15% is available for a block-booking of 2 or more places (split over any number of events in the inter-authority programme). Full details are available on our website.

Trevor Roberts Associates

specialists in training for the planning service

 tra-ltd.co.uk

 mail@tra-ltd.co.uk